Subject: Testimonial

We purchased the Fire Caddy prior to the 2003 harvest season. We had looked at them several times and just could not make up our mind about them. Finally we broke down and bought one and it paid off the first season, three times. We had two neighbors last year that both had separate fires and we were able to help with both of them. People said to us that it is nice to see someone with such an efficient little system.

Then it was our turn. We had had several dry summers in a row and we were concerned with fires on the combines. We had just nicely started the harvest season when we had the header catch on fire due to a hot knife section. The straw was so dry it was an instant fire. Fortunately the Fire Caddy was only an eighth of a mile away. We had the closest person to the truck bring it to the scene. By this time we had emptied all eight fire extinguishers on the combines and tractors in the field. Once we had the Fire Caddy on sight the fire was out in a matter of two minutes.

We saved losing the whole machine and were able to get it going in a matter of days. The damaged to the combine was approximately $50,000.00, much better than the $300,000.00 it would have cost to replace it.

In the end it was a cheap investment that will pay for itself time and time again.
